Some account of John Williamson, who was executed on the 19th of January, in Moorfields, for the wilful Murder of Anne his Wife, by confining and imprisoning her, from the 21st of November till the 16th of December, and denying her proper Sustenance.

ELIZABETH Farrington first deposed, that the prisoner lived in Tenter alley, Little Moorfields, No. 6, up three pair of stairs, in a house let out into tenements, and that, having the two pair of stairs room underneath him, the often heard his wife cry out with his beating her, and heard her call out murder, at which several of the neighbours went up, but he never went up herself while the deceased was alive: That, one Mrs. Cole being accustomed to frequent their room in the day-time, she heard the deceased one day crying out to her for God's sake not to let her husband use her so, to which Mrs. Cole said in return she could not help it: That one day in September last, the deceased came down into her room with a pair of iron handcuffs on her hands, confined behind her, begging the knot to be untied with a nail or fork, which the prisoner used at times to undo them with; but that neither she nor her husband, then at home with her, could contrive any means to relieve and set her free; upon which the deceased said, 'I must go up and stay in misery as I am till he comes home.' That having heard her often cry out afterwards, she used to call up stairs, and ask the prisoner why he abused her so, to which he answered she was a good for nothing creature: That she often heard her have falls, as if thrown down, which shook the ceiling, and that she heard her cry sadly when she had such falls: That having asked the prisoner why he did not take her to bed as other men did; he said she was so swarming with vermin that he could not come near her: That about seven or eight weeks before the deceased's death, hearing a child of the priso-her's cry out, 'pray father, dear father, dear father, for Christ's sake don't do it;' to which he answered—'d—n her a bitch, I will;' she immediately called up stairs, asking if he was for murdering the woman, and begging for God's sake he would take care of what he was about, for he might repent when it was too late, to which he said, 'Your counsel is very good, but, if I do any thing amiss, I am to answer for it myself.'

Elizabeth Farrington, being here asked by the Court, if she remembered the time of the woman's death, she answered that she thought it was the 15th of December, but that the prisoner's people said it was the 16th: That on the Monday night, the 15th, there were strange movings-like about in the prisoner's room, which made her conclude that the poor creature was dead, and that they were doing up their goods to go away: That they all went out in a few minutes, after one another, in company with Mr. Cole, Mrs. Cole's husband: That when they were all gone, she thought she would see whether she was alive or not, and going up at two different times to the door, called, but nobody answered: That about nine o'clock after, the prisoner, with 3 of his children, came back, and she listened at the foot of the stairs, but could hear nothing distinctly: That on the Tuesday morning, the 16th, the prisoner sent his daughter down to her to desire her to come up, for her mother was dead: That accordingly, between eleven and twelve the same day, she came up with eight or ten neighbours, and saw the deceased on the bedstead; 'I thought, added she, she looked more like a skeleton, than any thing else; she had little more on her bones than skin; there were marks round her ancles, and round her wrists and her middle, as if she had been tied with cords; she had received a blow on the left side of her cheek, and another on the right side of her forehead, as if she had a flit drove into her cheek and forehead; a great number of vermin were crawling upon her, and I said to Mr. Williamson, why would not you take my advice, which was to put her in the workhouse, and not to use her as he had done; to which he said, 'You may do your best and your worst, I will not fly.'

This woman, among other things, upon her cross examination being asked, if the deceased used to be intoxicated, she answered, that she never saw her eat or drink in her life; and that though, when she first saw her, she looked but thin, she did not look like a sickly person.

Anne Hart, deposed as follows: 'I knew the prisoner and his wife; as near as I can guess, they have been married better than eight months; I was at their wedding supper, but never was but twice in their room since, to the best of my knowledge; once was seven weeks before she died, on a Sunday; my husband and one William Barron were with me; the young man was a countryman of my husband's; he wanted a letter wrote, and asked my husband to get it wrote; we went a walking round Moorfields, coming up Tenter-alley, I said I have just thought of Mr. Williamson; I said to my husband, perhaps he will write it, he writes a good hand. We went all up to his room; Mrs. Cole was in the room, but she put her hat and cloak on, and went out immediately; the prisoner's wife was sitting by the fire-side, by her husband; I said, Mr. Williamson, I am come to ask a favour, for you to write a letter for this young man; we sat down, and a pot of beer was sent for. He said, young man, if you will tell me the contents of the letter, I will write it, and bring it to your house, Mrs. Hart. He said, he hoped we would go with him to the Magpye, in Bishopsgate-street, to spend the evening; my husband agreed to go; when his wife found we were all going out, she put her hands together, and said to me, 'For God's sake, Mrs. Hart, beg of him not to hand-cuff me, and tie me up, and I will be very good.' I said, pray, Mr. Williamson, do not confine your wife or tie her up; he said 'I know best what I have got to do, I shall do it;' then she said, 'If I am to be tied up, Mrs. Hart, beg that I may have some teain the morning;' he made answer and said, 'According as she behaved;' my husband and William Barron went down stairs directly; Mr. Williamson said, 'Go down stairs and I'll follow you in ten minutes; I said, no, Mr. Williamson, I do insist upon seeing in what manner you confine your wife; then he went to the other side of the room and fetched a pair of iron hand-cuffs; he shewed them me, and said 'The b—h has broken the lock of them;' I asked him what he did with them; he went close by the fire-side, and undid the closet door, which was fastened with a button; then I saw in the wall was a large staple drove much about her waist, rather too high; to that staple was a cord tied; he bid her turn, she made not the least resistance, but turned round and put her hands behind her back, quite orderly; he put on the hand-cuffs, and took her to the closet, and whether he put the rope round her body, or through the hand-cuffs, I cannot tell; he drew her tight up to the staple; she stood a tip-toe; the staple was rather too high, she could not stand upon her heels: When he was drawing her up, she called out, 'Oh Mr. Williamson! Oh Mr. Williamson! you draw me so tight, you'll cut my hands asunder;' he said she always made that noise, and, if she did not hold her tongue, he either would knock her head against the wall, or against the partition, I am not certain which; he then went down stairs, then there was nobody in the room but his daughter, and I with her; then the deceased asked me if I would give her a pinch of snuff; I gave her a pinch, and wiped her nose myself, because she had got no hands to use; she then asked me to ask Mr. Williamson's daughter to let her have a little stool, to put under her feet, that stood by the fire; I said to the girl, Mercy, do put the stool under your mother's feet; Mercy made answer, she dare not, for her father would beat her; I then said, I shall put it under, and I put it under myself; she then stood upright and thanked me, and said the stool much easier then; then I left the daughter and wife, and went down stairs, and overtook Mr. Williamson, the young man, and my husband; I said Mr. Williamson, don't be angry with your daughter for the stool's being under your wife's feet, for I put it under myself; he then said, 'I will break every bone in my daughter's skin for letting you put it under, for the b—h will get out of the closet.'

Upon her cross-examination, being asked if he assigned any reason why he tied her up, she said that he gave her none at all at that time, but that she had heard him mention, at other times, her destroying his things. Being also asked, whether the woman ever complained to her of wanting food, she answered that she had, but not at that time.

Mercy Williamson, the daughter of the prisoner, of about 15 years old, being next examined, deposed much the same as the foregoing witness, in regard to the circumstances of tying her up, but that her father instead of striking her so much as he used to do, had latterly poured water upon her as she stood tied up and handcuffed: That the last time her father had tied her up lasted, she believed, a month, without being let down at all, or going to bed, unless herself or Mrs. Cole had relieved her in her father's absence: That the victuals she had in this condition was a piece of bread and butter, being a slice each day, from a threepenny loaf round it, which was put on a shelf for her to eat, and to reach at as well as she could with her mouth; but that Mrs. Cole, her brother, or herself, had often put it forward to her, and used to hold water to her mouth to drink: That her father had threatened to beat her, if at any time she had helped her to a stool under her feet, to give her ease; and that, when on the Sunday before she died, she was let down by her father to have some dinner, she was then very weak and low, could hardly be heard to speak, staggered vastly as she walked, and was forced to lay hold of things.

This girl, in some measure to extenuate her father's crime, says that she was given to drinking of drams; and that she had often frightened and beaten his children. She describes her bed in the closet where she died, and where she had been tied up, as composed of nothing more than a few old rags and a sheet.

Anne Cole deposed much to the same purpose, and attributed her death not so much to her want of victuals and drink, as to fits she was subject to, and to her husband's handcuffing, striking, and throwing water upon her. She related also, that she was raving mad for some time before she died; a circumstance similar to that we are told of in Bulkley the Carpenter's narrative, 'That the divers persons who died for want of sustenance in the Wager's long-boat, after she was cast away in the South Seas, were taken in this wild manner in their heads, just before they died.'

Mr. Barton, a surgeon, having opened the deceased's body, was of opinion that he had observed evident marks of inanition, or that she had been starved to death.

There were evidences in Court to prove the prisoner's buying the handcuffs, and also his receiving, 60l. and upwards on the 2d of September, the property of his wife, of her guardian, but it was thought needless to call them.

PRISONER'S DEFENCE.

My Lord, and Gentlemen of the Jury, I had been married to my wife about three weeks; I went into the country to pay some Money that I owed; when I came back, I heard there was a great confusion at home; my girl told me my wife had been in one of her phrensy fits; she said she would not lie with her; she had searched the bed, and under the pillow she found one of my working knives; at another time she threw a knife at the girl, and it fell to the ground and broke in two; at another time, in my absence, she got drunk, which was the cause of our separating beds. I can't help making mention of a simple story: I went out once, and left three kittens at home; on our return I did not expect any cruelty acted to those little animals; I found one of them had been trampled upon and pressed to death, and the other two she had trampled upon them that their bones were broke; I asked her how she came to do it; she said she meant no harm; I confined her for what my girl said; she said, father, you don't know how I have been frightened at her when you are out; she turns up her eyes; I can't bear to be in the room without you tie her up. About five weeks before she died, I said she should not go out, as she used to scandalize me; and, when I went out, I have ordered my girl to give her tea, bread and butter, and sometimes a dram; I always took care to undo her when I came home; she never was tied up one night during the five weeks; sometimes she would make her bed close to mine, and sometimes she would make her bed with her head in the closet and her feet out. As to sustenance, she always had her meals with me, except when she was guilty of any particular crime, such as cutting things to pieces. In darning her stockings, she would cut off more than she would darn up, and throw my tools into the fire and burn them. I always gave her her meals regular, sometimes tea in an afternoon, sometimes not. On the Sunday before she died, she ate a piece of meat; I said to her, Nanny, can't you eat this; she said, I can't eat it: I never denied her the necessaries of life; I always took care to fill her belly: I kept her confined because she used to frighten my children in my absence, by turning up the whites of her eyes, and they were fearful of her doing them some mischief.

Several persons appeared to his character, as a sober honest man, and living upon very good terms with his former wife. He received sentence immediately, to be executed on the Monday following, and afterwards to be dissected and anatomized; after which he turned to the Court and said, 'My death is owing to that wicked Devil my daughter, notwithstanding she gave her evidence with trembling and tears.'

CHARLESTOWN, (S. Carolina)

May 19. In a letter from Carthage, via Jamaica, Capt. Henderson, of the sloop Fanny, bound from thence to the Bay, gives a dismal account of the loss of the said sloop, on the 31st of October last, off Cape Gracious a Dois; with many other circumstances that befel the crew (eleven in number) who all except three, died through fatigue and the want of subsistence; those who survived being obliged to eat the flesh of their poor deceased shipmates for food, and drink their own urine to quench their thirst; and to make their case still more dismal, the brutish Spaniards refused them subsistence, as men saved from ship-wreck; alledging, that they were not bound to the Bay, and therefore must take up their abode in the common gaol, amongst thieves, Negroes and murderers.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.

By Captain Hardcastle, from Jamaica, we learn, that a Day or two before he sailed, two Men, lately arrived at that Island, were taken up and committed to Prison, by Virtue of an Express from London.—It seems they were Ticket Porters, and had been entrusted with 1000 Guineas, with which they made off for Jamaica, from whence they intended to go to different Parts. One of them when taken, had 500 Guineas in his Possession; the other was taken on board a small Vessel, going to another Part of the Island, but had not above 40 Guineas, tho' he had sworn against the Captain of the Vessel, who, he said, broke open his Trunk, and robbed him.—The Captain and his Negroes were likewise confined in Gaol, for further Examination.

Yesterday Morning Thomas Oliver, a Lad about 16 or 17 Years old, was drowned at one of the Wharfs in this City. A Man, it is said, was also drowned, in Schuylkill, some Time Yesterday.

Capt. Marsh, from Honduras, on the 30th of May, in Lat. 22, 41, Long. 73, spoke a Sloop Captain Britton, from the Bay of Honduras for New-York.—On the 9th of June, in Lat. 29, 24, Long. 78, 3, spoke a Sloop, Capt. White, from Jamaica for New-York.

Captain James Taylor, in the Snow Sarah, arrived here from Dublin, on his Passage spoke with the following Vessels, viz. In Lat. 44, 10, Long. 40, 30, spoke the Ship Hope, Capt. Benjamin Davis, from New-York, for London, 14 Days out, all well.—In Lat. 37, 59, Long. 61, 31, spoke the Schooner Sally, Capt. Lyons, from New-York for Madeira, 4 Days out; Capt. Lyons the same Day spoke a French Ship, from Cape Francois for Nantz, 80 Days out.—In Lat. 39, 28, Long. 73, 17, spoke a Sloop from New-York for Southampton, 48 Hours out.

Yesterday the Brig Mansfield arrived here, in 23 Days from Martinico, under Command of Mr. Reuben Emifson. Capt. William Boone, the late Commander, unfortunately fell overboard on Monday last, off Cape Hatteras, and was drowned. His Body was taken up in about 20 Minutes, but no Signs of Life appeared.

Arrived at Jamaica. Capt. Rust, from Piscataqua; Capt. Ward, from Salem; Capt. Beally, from New-London; Capt. Lad, from Rhode-Island; Capt. Howell and Cocker, from Virginia; and Capt. Bridges, from Philadelphia.

At South-Carolina. Capt. Bardain, from Rhode-Island. Arrived at Philadelphia. Snow Penn, J. Harkies, from Bristol. Snow Hope, J. Hale, Liverpool. Sloop Molly, N. Stone, Boston. Sloop Sally, R. Alberfon, New-York.

HARTFORD, June 25.

Yesterday, just as divine Service was concluded, in the Afternoon, came up a Storm of Rain, attended with Thunder & Lightning, which struck the Steeple of the North Meeting-House in this Town, shattering all the top Works to Pieces, carried away the Weathercock, Spindle, and Junkey of the large Timbers.—At the Bottom of the Spindle it divided, a Branch of the Lightning ran down one of the main Posts of the Steeple, and split it from Top to Bottom: & another Branch ran across the fore Part of the Steeple, and then turned down by the Meeting-House, shattering the Glass, Clapboards and every Thing that came in its Way, till near the Ground, where it turned short, and entered the House, wounded one or two Persons, and killed a young Woman (viz. Sarah Larkum) almost instantly. As the Conflagration among the People was very great, every one apprehending the House to be on Fire, or ready to fall upon them, great Numbers ran to the Doors and Windows, to make their Escape; in this Hurry and Confusion, one Woman had her Able badly broke, and some others were slightly hurt, but as the Steeple was not set on Fire, no other Mischief ensued. The Explosion, when it struck, seemed very much like the Report of a heavy Cannon, only it was more sharp. In the midst of this awful Calamity, the Goodness of God was very remarkably seen,—no one that knew what Numbers of People were in the House, would have expected that so many could have escaped unhurt. Had the Shock happened at any other Time, many more would have been exposed, as that Part of the Meeting-House, where the Lightning entered, was fuller of People than common: as the Congregation was dismissed, all were crowding to the Doors, and the Steeple filled with People waiting for an Opportunity to go home, when the Rain abated: but as there appeared to be no Probability of its abating quickly, they were desired every one to return to their Seats, and join in singing Psalms to the Praise of Almighty GOD. This cleared the Steeple of People, and doubtless proved the Means of preserving many.

June 25. We have Accounts from several Parts of the Colony, of the surprising Effects of the Lightning, in the late Thunder-Storms, which has struck several Persons, who have been deprived of their Senses, for Hours—kill'd several Horses, Sheep, Oxen, &c. and tore great Numbers of Trees to Pieces.

We hear that the Woods are swarmed with Locusts, but as they confine themselves chiefly to Oak and Chestnut Trees, they do no Damage.

GOSHEN, (in Litchfield County) June 7, 1767.

Yesterday about Six o'Clock afternoon, arose a Storm of Rain, attended with very severe Thunder and Lightning—taking its Direction from the Northwest to the Southeast;
the Flashes were extreme sharp, and frequent, chiefly pointing towards the Earth; and repeatedly struck both Trees and Cattle in the Neighbourhood.—With us, happened the following most melancholy Accident—a very valuable House, belonging to the Estate of Mr. Joseph Webb, late of Weathersfield, was struck with the Lightning; there were Seven Persons in the House, Two of whom, Martin Wilcox and James Royce, were killed instantly, a Woman the Wife of John Carrington, appeared to be in the same Condition, but her Husband, who was one of those in the House, being but little hurt, happily had the Presence of Mind to take her up in his Arms, and carry her out of the Barn, where she revived, and tho' much burnt and severely shock'd, is likely to recover. The other Person in the House escaped with little Damage, except the severe Shock and Surprise.—The House was instantly in Flames, and together with the Furniture of two Families, to whom it was leased, and a considerable Part of Another's who formerly hired, was consumed.—The Bodies of the two Men were with great Difficulty taken out of the House, while in Flames, but so far burnt, as to be at once a Spectacle of the most exquisite Pity and Horror.—Their Remains have this Day been decently interr'd in one Grave.— Those who escaped, say, that immediately on the Flash, the two Men appeared to be dead and turned very black, and the House all on Fire.

NEW-YORK, June 25.

Sunday the 14th Instant, died after a short Illness, in the 37th Year of her Age, (and on Monday Evening following, was decently interred in the Family Vault, in Trinity-Church-Yard; the Remains of) Mrs. Moore, Wife of Lambert Moore, Esq; Comptroller, of his Majesty's Customs of this Port, and Daughter of the late Worshipsful Edward Holland, Esq;—She was a Lady remarkable for many excellent Virtues;—an affectionate Wife;—a tender Mother;—a dutiful Daughter;—a fond Sister;— an obliging Mistress;—In each of these Characters she evinced the Goodness, the Benevolence of her Heart.
—The Happiness which during her Life seemed so much in her own Possession, shed its enlivening Influence on all around her;—cheerful and at Ease with herself, no one in her Presence could be otherwise.—She was of a hospitable and tender Disposition.—Of these Virtues her Friends and acquaintance had full Experience.—Ever attentive to the many Calls of her Station, she was always employed in promoting the present, and providing for the future Happiness of her numerous Family of little Ones; of these seven are left behind her, the oldest not eight Years of Age.—To her Husband the Loss is exceeding great; to her children it will be almost irretrievable.—Sensible of the near Approach of Death, she submitted to the Stroke with a Christian Resignation; the Thoughts of leaving so many helpless Infants behind her, did, indeed, greatly distress her;—but even to this, was she at last, through Grace, reconciled.—As she lived much beloved, so she died greatly regretted by all who knew her.

The Stage of Life she trod with Ease,
Her letting Sun was bright;
Her Mind compos'd, her Soul at Peace With God, and Heav'n in Sight.

We hear from Ringwood, Iron-Works, in New-Jersey, that last Week, a Fray happened among some of the Workmen of that Work, which continued some Time, by which one Man lost his Life, and several were badly wounded.

Last Saturday the Body of a Man, was found buried (scarcely covered) in a Field, about a Mile from Elizabeth-Town; which occasions some Speculation in the Neighbourhood.

Last Sunday, a Man was knocked overboard from a Pettaugre, by the Boom, near Elizabeth-Town, and swam some Time:—Endeavours were used by the People on board to save him from drowning, but without effect; we hear his Name was Powers, of Springfield, near Elizabeth-Town.

Yesterday sailed for Pensacola, the Brig Cornelia; Capt. Harvey, who had on board, we hear, 71 Soldiers of the 28th Regiment.

It is said strict Orders are sent to the West-Indies, to observe and detect the New-England, New-York, and Philadelphia Captains of Vessels, in selling Hats of their respective Provinces, which is prohibited, under a very severe Penalty, on the Captain and all concerned in it, Complaint having been made at Home of great Quantities being sent from those Colonies, of the fine Beaver Kind, to the great Prejudice of the Beaver Hat Trade at Home.

The Public are hereby caution'd to beware of counterfeit Dollars, many of which have lately been discover'd, of the following Dates, viz. 1747, 1756, 1757, 1758, 59 and 1760. They are so well finish'd, as hardly to be distinguish'd from good ones by a close Inspection. We have only now an Opportunity to describe those of one of the Dates, viz. Ferdinand's of 1747. The Metal is rather duller than the generality of the true ones, and often one Side or t'other a little scratch'd as if touched with a File, the Size a small Matter broader and thicker, and does not ring so well as the true ones. The Inscription is nearer to the Edge of the Metal on one Side than the other, and the indenting on the Edges is less distinct and neat than the true ones, but the most remarkable Distinction is on the Edge right over the Point (.) after FERDND. on the Arms Side; and over the Rose, after VNUM, on the Pillar Side, where there is in some of them an Inequality, in others a Flaw, as if in that Place the Metal had been pour'd into the Mould.

The Ship York, Captain Berton, is to sail on Sunday next for London, in whom goes Passenger Mr. Benjamin Boothe, of this City, Merchant.

Pieces omitted this Week, we shall endeavour to publish in our next.

New-York, June 25, 1767.

WHEREAS on Tuesday Evening last, a young Man about 5 Feet and a half high, well set, fresh coloured, freckled Face, sandy coloured Hair, had on a red Waistcoat without Sleeves, a Check Shirt and black Breeches, came to my Shop, near the O'wego-Market, told me he was the Son of Mr. John Riker of this City, that he was lately come from Sea with Captain Prince, to whom he had served an Apprenticeship, and was just then free;—that he was ordered by Captain Prince (who frequents my Shop) on his Account, to take of me such Clothes as were necessary for his out fit.— Not doubting the Truth of a Story, told with so many probable Circumstances, I delivered him such Goods as he chose, viz. Three Yards of blue and Pink mixt seven Quarter broad Cloth, yellow double gilt Metal Buttons, with all other Trimmings suitable for a Coat and Breeches, amounting in the whole to £. 7-11, which he carried away. But next Morning I discover'd that he had no Orders from Captain Prince, was neither the Son of Mr. Riker, nor known to either of them; nor have I yet been able to discover who he is.—These are therefore to desire, that if any of the said Articles are offer'd to sale, carried to any Taylor to be made up, or can be otherwise discovered, that they may be stopped, the Man secured, and Notice given to me; for which, if the Goods are recovered a handsome Reward will be given in Proportion to the Service done, besides all reasonable Charges paid, by

To be sold at public Vendue,

On Thursday the 27th of August next, at the Merchant's Coffee-House;

A Very valuable tract of timber land: (lately belonging to the children of Richard Bradley, Esq;) It contains about 817 acres, and lies two miles and a half, directly back of New-Burgh, on Hudson's-river;—it is well known, and has been always esteem'd the most extraordinary timber-land of any in that part of the country, both as to quantity and quality; there is abundance of large tall exceeding fine chestnut.
As timber is now become scarce in the neighbourhood of this tract, and as it lies about two miles from the landing, and a very good road, the tract on account of the timber is justly esteem'd very valuable.—Any person inclining to purchase before the day of sale, may apply to GABRIEL LUDLOW, at New-York, or WILLIAM DONALDSON, at New-Brunswick.
The title is indisputable; one third of the purchase money being paid down, time will be given for the remaining two thirds, upon security, if required. 77 80 is a Weaver by Trade, of a fair Complexion, somewhat freckled, gray Eyes, short black Hair, little or no Beard, and has a down cast look when he speaks to Strangers; had on when he went away an old half worn Felt Hat, a new brown coloured homespun Coat, with white Metal Buttons down the Brest, and none on the Hips, lin'd with Flannel of a lightish colour, a white Flannel Jacket with Sleeves and no Pockets, a Tow Shirt, Osnaburg Trowsers, pale blue Yarn Stockings, with Brass Buckles in his Shoes; he also took away a Needle work'd Pocket Book, mark'd John Hill, with between Forty and Fifty Shillings in Money, and Writings to a considerable Value.—Whoever takes up and secures said Servant in any of His Majesty's Gaols, so that his Master may have him again, shall have the above Reward, paid by me BENJAMIN CLARKE.

junr. (77 80)

BURLINGTON, June 10.

The Speech of his Excellency WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq; Captain General and Governor in Chief in and over His Majesty's Province of New-Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor, and Vice-Admiral in the same, &c.

Gentlemen of the Council, and Gentlemen of the General Assembly, HAVING nothing in Command from the Crown, which requires your immediate Attention, I deferred meeting you till this Time, in Hopes of having it in my Power to acquaint you with the Resolutions of Parliament, respecting a Paper Currency in America; a Matter, I have Reason to believe, you have much at Heart, and of which it would therefore have afforded me great Pleasure to have been enabled to give you some satisfactory Intelligence: When the last Advice left England it was under Consideration, and probably before you rise we may learn the Event.

Agreeable to your Requests at the last Sessions, I transmitted to the Secretary of State your respective Addresses to his Majesty; and have now the Happiness of communicating to you a Letter I have received from the Right Hon. the Earl of Shelburne, signifying his Majesty's most gracious Reception of those Addresses, and Approbation of the Behaviour of this Colony during the late Disturbances. To have our Conduct so highly approved by the best of Sovereigns, cannot fail of animating us in our future Endeavours to merit the Royal Favour.

Gentlemen of the General Assembly, The Provision made at the last Sessions, for supplying such of the King's Troops as might come within this Colony, with Necessaries, has proved considerably deficient; I must therefore recommend it to you, to discharge the Sums which have been advanced by the Treasurers, and Barrack-Masters, on this Account; and to make Provision for the future Support of those Troops, in the Manner his Majesty expects. You will probably think it necessary, for the Future, to place a greater Confidence, on these Occasions, in the proper Officers of Government (who have always manifested their Frugality and Oeconomy with Regard to the Public) and not put them under the disagreeable Necessity of advancing Money at the Risk of their private Fortunes, or of applying for a Meeting of the Assembly on every new or unseen Application from the General.

I must likewise recommend it to you, Gentlemen, to reward the Persons who were most active in apprehending the Villains lately executed for the Murder of the Oneida Indian, in Sussex, and the two Delaware Squaws in the County of Burlington. You will find by a Letter from Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, which I shall order to be laid before you, that these Instances of the Justice of our Province, are likely to be productive of the most beneficial Effects to the British Interest, with the several Indian Nations on the Frontiers of this and the neighbouring Provinces.

Gentlemen of the Council, and Gentlemen of the General Assembly, Tho' the Season of the Year is somewhat advanced beyond the usual Time of your doing Business, yet I doubt not but a Continuance of that Harmony which has subsisted among us, will enable you to dispatch, without Inconvenience to yourselves, all Matters of Importance, which may come under your Consideration at this Meeting.

WILLIAM FRANKLIN.

Council-Chamber, June 20, 1767.

A Copy of a Letter from the Right Honourable the Earl of SHELBOURNE, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, to his Excellency Governor FRANKLIN, referred to in the foregoing Speech.

Whitehall, 13th September, 1766.

SIR, I HAVE laid before the King, your Letter of the 19th of June, together with the Address therein inclosed, from the Council, and from the Assembly of New-Jersey, on Occasion of the Repeal of the late Stamp-Act, which could not fail of being very agreeable to his Majesty.

His Majesty is greatly pleased with the dutiful and prudent Behaviour of his loyal Colony of New-Jersey, during the late Disturbances in America: And I have the Pleasure to acquaint you, Sir, of his Majesty's gracious Approbation of your Conduct.

The Ease and Honour of his Majesty's Government in America, will greatly depend on the Temper and Wisdom of those who are entrusted with the Administration there. A Conduct regulated by just and liberal Principles, suffering no Encroachment, on the one Hand, on his Majesty's just and lawful Prerogative, and, on the other, beholding, with Pleasure, the prudent and decent Exercise of that Freedom, which belongs to the People, cannot fail of engaging the Hearts of his Majesty's American Subjects, and of continuing in New-Jersey that dutiful Disposition towards his Majesty, and Confidence in Government, which you represent, so much to its Honour, to have prevailed there.

I am, with great Truth and Regard, Sir, your most obedient humble Servant, SHELBOURNE.

The following Speech and Address, were omitted at their first Appearance, for want of Room, and afterwards forgot; but are too remarkable not to have a Place in this Paper.

BOSTON, June 1.

Thursday last, at Noon, His Excellency the Governor was pleased to make the following SPEECH to both Houses, viz. Gentlemen of the Council, and Gentlemen of the House of Representatives, AT the opening this Session I have nothing from the immediate Command of His Majesty to lay before you. I therefore cannot employ the present Opportunity better than by recommending to you to endeavour to restore to this General Court the mutual Confidence and Unanimity which prevailed in it, until they were interrupted by the late popular Uneasiness. And must, at the same Time, assure you that I shall heartily concur with you in all Measures which shall be conducive to so salutary an End.

I do not however mean to decline the full Exercise of the constitutional Powers with which I am vested: They are derived from the same Fountain with your own Privileges, and therefore I trust that the free Use of them can never give just Cause of Offence. But as I desire to temper my Authority with all possible Moderation, I shall be obliged to you for every Opportunity you shall give me to make evident this Disposition.

The Business of this Session is generally short; and the Season of the Year requires that it should be so. You must have observed how very expensive unnecessary Disputation is, and therefore I hope you will avoid it, that the Public Business may be done with all proper Dispatch, and you may return to your Homes as soon as may be.

FRAN. BERNARD.

Council Chamber, March 28, 1767.

June 4. Tuesday last the following ADDRESS was voted by the Honourable House of Representatives, to be presented to his Excellency the Governor, in Answer to his SPEECH, at the opening of the present Session of the General Court: And this Day a Committee of the House presented the same.

May it please your Excellency, HAVING duly considered your Speech at the opening of this Session, the House of Representatives beg Leave, with great Sincerity, to say, That there is nothing which they more ardently wish for than mutual Confidence in the several Branches of the General Assembly, and a happy Unanimity in such Measures as shall best promote the Prosperity of His Majesty's Government, and the Peace and Welfare of His Subjects of this Province: At the same Time we must freely declare to your Excellency, that during the whole Period of that general Calamity and Distress, which you choose to denominate "a popular Uneasiness," we do not recollect a single Act done by the Representative Body of this Province, which could have the least Tendency to interrupt a general Harmony, so essentially necessary for the valuable Purposes of Government; nor can it, in our Opinion, without great Injustice, be supposed, that had there been in Reality nothing more than a groundless popular Uneasiness, it would have been suffered to intermix with their public Councils, and occasion a Breach of Confidence.

We are obliged to say, that there is the deepest Concern among the People of this Province, that after they have shown every possible Mark of Loyalty, it has yet been represented to His Majesty, that a Degree of ill Temper remains in his Colony of Massachusetts-Bay. The Letter from the Secretary of State, which your Excellency communicated to the last Assembly, leaves no Room to doubt but that such a Representation has been made. Permit us, Sir, just to observe, that nothing will tend more to conciliate the Minds of this People, than to give us the Opportunity to make it evident to our Constituents, that you have had no Hand in such Representation. Such a Measure might tend to remove that Concern, and to restore a Unanimity to this General Court: And we rely upon that Assurance you have given us, that you will heartily concur with us in all Measures which shall be conducive to so salutary a Purpose.

You are pleased to make an open and express Declaration, that you do not mean to decline the full exercise of the constitutional Powers with which you are vested. We are fully convinced of it: Nor have we the least Desire that you should ever decline a deliberate and wise Exercise of those Powers. Your Excellency will however allow us to say, that there is such a Thing as an indiscrete Use of Legal Power, of which this House have a Right to form their own Judgment.

Your Excellency tells us, that you desire to temper your Authority with all possible Moderation: Whether you have not already, since the opening of this Session, missed the fairest Opportunity of making evident such a Disposition, is a Matter that is now open to the Judgment of the World.

You have not been pleased to point out the Business of this Session; but strongly recommend to us to shorten it, as the Season of the Year requires: We are sensible, there are Matters that immediately concern his Majesty's Government of this Province, which properly now come before us: These we shall dispatch in as short a Time as will admit of a due Deliberation upon them: Unnecessary Disputation we shall avoid. Your Excellency tells us we must have observed how very expensive it is: If you refer to the Disputes of last Year, we do not judge them, so far as we have observed, to have been unnecessary or protracted beyond due Bounds: We are sorry there was occasion given for them; but in our Opinion the late House of Representatives are not chargeable with it. As the Rights of this People are now entrusted to us, it is our indispensable Duty to maintain and defend them: We hope none of them will be drawn into Question; but should that be the Case, we are bound in Confidence to contend for them, and therefore we shall not think the Dispute on our Part unnecessary, or the Time employed in it mispent.

Virginia, May 21, 1767.

To be SOLD, on terms to be agreed upon at the day of sale, at Mr. George Nevill's ordinary, near the premises, the 15th day of September next, (pursuant to an act of assembly empowering the executors of Colonel Charles Carter, late of King George, to make sale of so much of his unimproved lands as they shall find necessary for the payment of his debts.)

SUPPLEMENT to the NEW-YORK JOURNAL, OR GENERAL ADVERTISER.—NUMB: 1277.

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1767.

LONDON, April 17.

HEY write from Petersburg, that a curious Experiment was lately made there, to ascertain the Difference between natural and artificial Cold; on the 5th of January between Nine and Ten in the Morning, the Mercury in Delisle's Thermometer being at the 110th Degree, by the Application of Ice, it fell to 265, by that of Snow to 380, and by Aqua-fortis to 473 Degrees.

A private Letter from Paris is handed about in French, which says, that "the French King being left addicted to Hunting, and visiting often the Trianon, it is imagined that his amorous Passion has broke out afresh. This Suspicion is corroborated by a young Lady of great Beauty having lately taken up her Residence at that Pavilion. She is said to be a Native of Geneva, and first Cousin of a celebrated Writer, who has made much Noise in the World, and rendered himself very conspicuous, particularly in England, which is now his Asylum:—that it is to be supposed her Cousin will reap some Advantage from this Connection, as his Learning and Talents entitle him to a Post of Eminence in the Administration of Affairs." This may, perhaps, be a Sequel to the fictitious Epistle ascribed to the King of Prussia, which gave M. Rousseau so much Uneasiness.

On Wednesday last week, there was a great match at Whitby in the spinning way, on which many considerable wagers were depending.—The competitors were two servant girls of Mrs. Weymouth's and Capt. Jackson's, who were to spin two pounds of yarn, at ten-pence per pound, each a pound, and she that spun the same in the time, and made the most yarn, was to win.—They got done in 94 hours, and Mrs. Weymouth's servant made thirty cuts of yarn, and the Captain's the like quantity, save only thirty threads. This is looked on to be the greatest proficiency in the lint spinning way that has been known.—They spun with both hands all the while, and had two twills each, and a vast number of spectators attended.

One Griffin, a Cocker, near Field-lane, was committed to Clerkenwell Bridewell, by Joseph Gridler, Esq; on his own Confession, for robbing a Footman at the Foot of Highgate Hill, of 1s. 6d. and a small Pistol. The Prisoner begg'd to be sent to Newgate, and hanged out of the Way; for he said he could not live on the Air. The Justice ordered him to be taken Care of, thinking him insane.

The following melancholy account has been sent here by Mr. George Naylor, Surgeon, in Stroud, and one of the coroners of this county.

"Mr. Raikes,
"IT having been represented to me by a Clergyman of the neighbourhood of the Moreton-Valence, that a boy, about twelve years of age, was famished to death, I proceeded according to my rules of office, and had the body taken up this day, and held an inquest upon it; and the jury agreed, that the body actually died for want of every necessary of life.—The boy's sister, who was a material evidence, declared upon oath, that her brother was starved, and that he had many times eaten coals and ashes from the hearth for want of other food. Upon which I opened the body, and found the abdominal viscera, perfectly sound; and upon opening the stomach, found a considerable quantity of coals and ashes, as described by his sister. His head was covered with lice, which in many places had penetrated even to his skull. His body was so extremely emaciated, that to me it was one of the most dismal spectacles I ever beheld, scarcely skin sufficient to cover the bones. So that, through the neglect of the parish officers, this boy must have actually died of hunger; and many poor people, there is too much reason to believe, are dying of the same disease.
I am, Sir,

Your very humble Servant,
GEO. NAYLER, Coroner."

KINGSTON, (in Jamaica) May 16.

On Saturday last the 9th instant, came on the trial of Ephraim Hintz, Millwright, at the Surry Assize, for Forgery, when after a solemn trial the jury withdrew, and after a considerable time, brought in their verdict guilty; but strongly recommended him as an object of mercy, as there arose many circumstances in his favor. His honor the Chief Justice sat as one of the justices of Assize, and on performing that disagreeable part of his duty, the pronouncing sentence of death upon the unhappy prisoner, was so moved that it drew tears from many persons present.

To be sold at public Vendue, the First Day of July next, on the Premises:

ONE Hundred Acres of Land, lying on the West-Side of Hudson's River, near New-Windfor, in Ulster-County; which Land is divided into six Lots, viz. Lot No. 1, containing about 27 Acres, on which stands a fine new Grist-Mill, on the noted good Stream commonly known by the Name of Quataick, (alias) Chambers-Creek: This Mill is supposed to be as well calculated for the Business of the New-York Market, as any in the Province, having the great Advantage of a fine extensive Wheat Country, lying back of it, and being situated so that the Flour can be transported from the Door in a Scow, and loaded on board of a sloop, (which can come within a very small Distance of the Mill); Therefore no Expence will accrue on Account of Land-Carriage; consequently the Purchaser can advance a higher Price for Wheat than, possibly can be given at Mills whose situation lies back from the River: The good Effect of which will be, that he can command as much of that Commodity as he may think proper. The House is large and commodious, being 42 Feet in Length, and 28 in Breadth, two Stories and a Half high, one Pair of Stones six ft, and in good Order, with proper Convenience to fix another Pair. Lots No. 2 and 3, each containing about 13 Acres, Lot No. 4, contains about 18, Lot No. 5, contains about 14, and Lot No. 6, contains about 9 Acres.—The Whole is good Swamp and Up-Land, with fine young thriving Timber on it, and will be sold together, or in separate Parcels, as above mentioned, as may best suit the Purchasers.—The Conditions will be made known at the Time of Sale: An indisputable Title will be given by the Subscriber, living near the Premises.

THE HEIDELBERG CATECHISM, or METHOD OF INSTRUCTION in the CHRISTIAN RELIGION, as the same is taught in the Reformed Churches and Schools of HOLLAND. With a COMPENDIUM of the same, To which is added, Two PSALMS of the New-Version.

Translated for the Use of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church, of the City of New-York, examined, compared, and approved by the Consistory of the same, and by them recommended for the Use of Schools, and order'd to be printed. 2nd Edition.

THIS is to inform the Public,

That I the Subscriber hereof, William Bentley, of Beekman's Precinct, in Duches County, was sent for to the House of one Thomas Wallworth, of said Place, the last of February, or the first of March, 1763; where meeting one Timothy Hollester, of Connecticut, who offered to dispose of several Rights of Land, in which was generally called the Sufquehannah Purchase:—And I questioning his Right or Authority of the said Rights, and told him I had rather have a Right in the Delaware Purchase; but questioned, whether he the said Hollester, had any Authority to dispose of any there: Whereupon the said Thomas Wallworth, came into the Room, and certified that the said Hollester, had good Right to dispose of such Rights, and that said Wallworth, had been at the laying out of a Township on the said Rights then offered for Sale; and that there was no dispute of the Delaware; upon which Consideration I agreed to have a Right, and gave my Note of £. 13-0-0 for the Payment thereof: And whereas I find the whole to be a piece of Deceit and Villany, and can have no Certainty for the said Rights.—For which Reason I don't intend to pay the aforesaid £. 13-0-0, or any Part thereof, and also am well informed, that the aforesaid Note was lodged in the Hands of the said Thomas Wallworth, and as he has offered the same for Payment: Therefore I do hereby notify the Public, not to trade for, nor accept the said Note as Payment, as I shall utterly refuse the Payment thereof.
WILLIAM BENTLEY.

PURPOSES to open a Morning and Evening School, for the Instruction of Youth in Writing and Arithmetic—to commence the first of April next, and continue to the first of October following—Attendance will be given from six to eight in the Morning, and from five to seven in the Evening precisely.—It is imagined that this Plan may suit some of both Sexes, who attend other Places of Education at different Periods, for other Purposes.—Whoever is pleased to Favour this Scheme, may depend on being served with Fidelity; as there will be no Deeds, Bills, Bonds, &c. or any Kind of Writing done, but such as will have a direct Tendency to promote the general Good of the School, which has constantly been the principal View of the Instructor, and on which Account he has rejected every Thing that he thought would be incompatible with the Duty of a Teacher.

 Eighty one acres of land, lying within the bounds of Mar-bel-Town, near Esopus. (72 83)

Province of New-Jersey, December 3, 1766.

WHEREAS a Law was passed in New-Jersey the 20th of June 1765, appointing Commissioners to run out straight public Roads through said Province, between New-York and Philadelphia, and empowering them to raise a Sum of Money by a public Lottery, not exceeding £.500, towards defraying the Charge thereof; accordingly a Lottery was thereupon soon after set on Foot, but from the troubled State of Affairs at that Time, occasioned by the Stamp Act, the Proceedings of the said Lottery were delayed; but as it is apprehended that the salutary Purpose might now be effected, the Managers therein appointed have thought fit for that End, to revive the following Scheme of a Lottery, to consist of 2222 Tickets, at 4 Dollars each; 662 of which are to be fortunate as follows:

Prize of Dollars, 750	is Dollars, 750

 2222 Tickets, at 4 Dollars each, are 8988£.3333

From which a Deduction of 15 per Cent. is £. 1348 19 0: The fortunate Numbers are to be printed in the N. York and Pennsylvania Papers, as soon as possible after the Drawing, which will be directed by John Stevens, James Parker of Perth-Amboy; John Wetherill of the Township of New Brunswick; Daniel Ellis of Burlington, and John Edwards of Bordentown, who are appointed Managers and Commissioners for the Road leading from the Ferry-house opposite Perth-Amboy, to Burlington; and John Berried, of Rocky-hill; Daniel Cox, of Trenton; Azariah Dunham, of N. Brunswick; Ephraim Terrill, & Abraham Clark, jun. of Elizabeth-Town, who are likewise appointed Managers, and Commissioners for the Road leading from Newark and Elizabeth-Town, to Trenton and Bordentown agreeable to said Act; and are to be under Oath for the due and impartial Performance of their Duties.

The shortening and improving the public Roads through this Province, will be a great Advantage to the commercial Interest and a general Convenience of the Inhabitants thereof, as well as a very general Advantage to the Neighbouring Provinces, particularly to Pennsylvania and New-York; and as it is the first Thing of the Kind that has been attempted on the Continent, it is not doubted but every public spirited Person in this, as well as the Neighbouring Provinces, will generously contribute to an Undertaking, tending so greatly to the Advantage and Ease of Men of Business and Pleasure; as it is judged the Distance between New York and Philadelphia will be shorten'd 12 or 15 Miles, and the Roads all made more passable and convenient for Travellers in the Winter Season than the Present.

Tickets are to be had of Daniel Ellis of Burlington, Daniel Cox of Trenton, James Parker of Perth-Amboy, and Abraham Clark, jun. of Elizabeth-Town, and of all the other Managers in Jersey, at their respective Dwellings.
